

Announcement of Maharakham University
Academic Management Calendar for the Credit Bank System
Academic Year 2025

In order to ensure effective learning management in the Credit Bank System of Maharakham University Academic Year 2025 under Maharakham University's Regulations on the Academic Management of Credit Bank System 2025, together with Maharakham University's Regulations on the Payment of Credit fees, Tuition Fees, and other Academic Services Fees in the Credit Bank System Learning Management 2024, the Announcement of Maharakham University on Learning Outcome Transfer from Training Programs and Experience Transfer into Credit Bank System 2022, and Order of Maharakham University No. 3073/2566 issued on November 10, 2023, the Academic Management Calendar for the Credit Bank System Academic Year 2025 is stipulated as follows:

1. The Academic Management Calendar for the Credit Bank System applies to all learners across various admissions and programs.

2. Learning management period aligns with the academic year which starts from June 2025 to May 2026.

3. Learning management period in the Credit Bank System will be implemented twice annually: June-November 2025 and December 2025-May 2026. Note that faculties and academic units may set instructional formats as appropriate or follow the standard classroom format.

4. Individuals, including Maharakham University students, can register as learners in the Credit Bank System at any time via the MSU WISDOM website (<http://wisdom.msu.ac.th>), regardless of gender, age, nationality, religion, or educational background.

5. Learners in the Credit Bank System can register for individual courses, package courses, or training programs, request credit transfer for learning outcomes or academic records, or apply for graduation at any time via the academic services system (<http://reg.msu.ac.th>). They can also register for training programs through the websites designated by faculties or academic units. Note that withdrawing from individual or package courses will not result in a "W" symbol on the academic transcript, and refunds will not be provided under any circumstances.

6. Learners can pay the tuition fees, credit fees, or other academic services fees according to the university's regulations via the academic services system (<http://reg.msu.ac.th>).

7. If learners fail to pay the tuition fees, credit fees, or other academic services fees stipulated by the University's regulations within 10 weekdays, the registration will individually result in the cancellation of the registered individual or package courses, or training programs.

8. For individual or package course examinations, faculties, and academic units must submit grades to the Division of Registration with the approval of the faculty committee within 11 weekdays after the examination week.

9. Faculties and academic units must submit grades to the Division of Registration with the approval of the faculty committee, faculty graduate committee, inter-faculty graduate committee, or other authorized committees during the first period (June-November 2025) and the second period (December 2025-May 2026).

Remarks

1. Faculties and academic units are responsible for managing the learning process to ensure efficiency and effectiveness, enabling students to gain knowledge, skills, and experience from the Credit Bank System.

2. In case of any issues, faculties or academic units must report to the university for further consideration and action.

This announcement is made for general awareness and strict adherence.
